

This resource has been developed for sites ranging from those with absolutely no experience of working with schools or families through to those with lots of experience who may be looking for new ideas for activities.

To try and meet such diverse needs, the resource has been broken down into the following sections:

Part 1: Getting started with schools

Part 1a

Advice including:

- Initial things to think about
- Talking to teachers
- Planning what to do
- Practicalities to consider

Part 1b

Documents to edit and adapt as you need:

- Booking form
- Risk assessment form
- School information sheet
- Photo consent form
- Teacher feedback sheet
- Pupil feedback

Part 2: Working with families

Advice including:

- Things to think about before starting
- Trails
- Backpacks
- Selecting and adapting ideas from the activity bank
- Bookable events

Part 3: Schools and families activity bank

Part 3a

Activities for Key Stage 2 and families:

- Introductory activities
- Exploring the landscape
- Living things
- Mr Brown and his 'capabilities'

Part 3b

Worksheet pack documents which you can edit and adapt for your own needs:

- Example trails for schools or families
- Handouts to support some of the activities in the Activity Bank

Part 4: Working with other Key Stages

Information on the curriculum offered for different ages and pupils and how this might affect what your site offers them.